Iridium Service Plans—new rates 1 January 2009

Post-Paid—This account is where you pay for your calls at the end of the billing period and receive a written record of all of your calls. The basic cost is $39.95 monthly or $44.95 with voice mail. This plan is recommended when you need a record of calls or need an account and do not plan on making a lot of calls. This may be for reimbursement or for rebilling of others who use your phone. If you are going to re-bill someone else for service, a call record is the best way to settle an account. Bundle plans have 30, 100 and 240 minutes included. There is no service term on the postpaid, however a 30 day cancel notice is required in writing.

Pre-Paid--The Pre-paid cards have no monthly fee and the call rates can be lower than Post-paid cards, however No Call Records are provided or monthly usage reports. The one-month card expires in 30 days unless you add addition time to the card in which you get 30 more days from the time it is recharged. A 500 minute card is extended one-year or 30 days from the time it is recharged. If the account value is zero, the card can receive incoming calls and outgoing calls can only be placed to the service provider. Expired cards (+30 day grace period) can be renewed but at a high cost (currently $300). Minutes roll over if renewal is made before a card expires, minutes are lost on the expiration date and can not be recovered. Special Canadian and Africa prepaid plans are available, but they work only on Canada or Africa respectively.
